Response to FEC violation accusation.

Kim,

I refute all of the charges filed against me by the Democratic Party of Oregon claiming I violated FECA rules by contributing to an independent expenditure "If He Votes Like That" PAC which targeted its campaign against state representative Jason Conger who was running in the Oregon Republican primary for U.S. Senate.

The allegation that I communicated with and, or, coordinated this PAC's activities with Dr. Monica Wehby's campaign for the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate is simply unfounded and based on circumstantial information at best.

The PAC campaign I contributed to was run by Greg Clapper. I had no involvement in the creation of content, media purchases, or timing of content dissemination to the public attributable to the PAC.

I had no knowledge of, or involvement in, Dr. Wehby's media campaign - its creation, its content, media buying, or timing of content placement.

There was absolutely no sharing of information, or coordination of activities between the PAC campaign in question and Dr. Wehby's campaign.

The accusations are based on flimsy connections, with no basis in fact.

The fact that my name was among many for an April fundraiser, exhibit C, means nothing relative to the accusation of violating FECA rules. I openly supported Dr. Wehby, but that does not substantiate with facts, that I in any way coordinated the PAC campaign with Dr. Wehby's campaign.

The same applies to exhibits A and B, my funding of a billboard highlighting ObamaCare and Jason Conger's role as a state representative in passing enabling legislation in Oregon.

Polling noted in the complaint, attributed to an April 16 article in the Oregonian, was polling conducted by Mr. Clapper which was not shared with Dr. Wehby's campaign.

Assertions that I know Dr. Wehby personally, and various media speculations about the nature of our relationship, in no way support any claims of violating FECA rules with facts.

In summary, I did not violate FECA rules contributing to the "If He Votes Like That" PAC.

Sincerely,
Andrew W. Miller
